

OHIO STRONG RESOURCE GUIDE

BEGINNER'S GUIDE TO MANUFACTURING & THE SKILLED TRADES

BROUGHT TO YOU BY:
JOSH MANDEL
TREASURER OF OHIO

A MESSAGE FROM TREASURER MANDEL

As baby boomers throughout Ohio continue to retire, I frequently hear about the shortage of welders, pipe-fitters, electricians, carpenters, machinists and other skilled tradesmen and women. According to a recent Skills Gap Survey by the Manufacturing Institute, approximately 600,000 manufacturing jobs across the nation remain unfilled because employers can't find qualified workers.

At the same time, a Bureau of Labor Statistics study recently found that 48 percent of recent college graduates are working in jobs that don't require a four-year degree. As you read this today, there are young people throughout Ohio who have four-year liberal arts degrees, tens of thousands of dollars in debt, and are serving coffee at Starbucks or working part-time at the mall. I believe that many of these young people would have been better off with a two-year skilled trade education, technical education or apprenticeship training with actual skills to secure a well-paying job and many opportunities for upward mobility, because there are more ways to be successful than just a four-year degree.

I oversaw the creation of this guide so as to place available educational, training and informational resources for manufacturing and skilled trades at your fingertips. Much of the information in this guide has already been made available in various locations. However, I wanted to centralize it, thus making it easier for you to find the information you are seeking. Also, I hope to raise awareness of Ohio's need for more men and women to work in manufacturing and the skilled trades.

Should you have any questions regarding this guide, or any other facet of government, please do not hesitate to contact me at (614) 466-2160 or toll free at (800) 228-1102. My office stands ready to assist you in navigating through the many manufacturing and skilled trades training resources available to you.

Sincerely,

Josh Mandel
Treasurer of Ohio
