EDITORIAL: TREASURER SPRAGUE, AUDITOR FABER
 SEEK BETTER RESULTS FOR OHIO TAX DOLLARS

There is something to be said for the fresh thinking that can come with turning various public offices over to new officeholders, especially in administrative positions where they can make immediate impact.

Two former Republican state legislators who won elections in 2018 to state executive offices — Keith Faber as state auditor and Robert Sprague as state treasurer — deserve credit for their new ideas in serving statutory responsibilities...

“The ResultsOHIO program protects taxpayer dollars by ensuring Ohio’s resources are invested in pursuing positive outcomes. The program’s pay-for-success framework would be a significant tool in our efforts to curb infant mortality and boost the health of babies and moms. We applaud Treasurer Sprague’s initiative and believe it will help in combatting some of the most pressing public health challenges facing Ohio.”
