STATE TREASURER OF OHIO

Momentum Grows for Statewide Government Transparency with Over 575 Local Government and School Districts Partnering with OhioCheckbook.com

HAMILTON ‐ Ohio Treasurer Josh Mandel announced today the launch of Fairfield and Ross Townships online checkbooks on OhioCheckbook.com. In December 2014, Treasurer Mandel launched OhioCheckbook.com, which sets a new national standard for government transparency and for the first time in Ohio history puts all state spending information on the internet. OhioCheckbook.com recently earned Ohio the number one ranking in the country for government transparency.

The Ohio Treasurer's office was joined at today's announcement by Fairfield Township Fiscal Officer Nancy Bock and Township Trustee Shannon Hartkemeyer, and Ross Township Administrator Bob Bass and Fiscal Officer Judy Huffman. Fairfield and Ross Townships are the third and fourth townships in Butler County to post their spending on OhioCheckbook.com.

Fairfield Township's online checkbook includes over 29,000 individual transactions that represent more than $43 million of total spending over the past three years. Ross Township's online checkbook includes over 12,000 individual transactions that represent more than $8.4 million of total spending over the past three years.

"I believe the people of Butler County have a right to know how their tax money is being spent, and I applaud local leaders here for partnering with my office to post the finances on OhioCheckbook.com," said Treasurer Mandel. "By posting local government spending online, we are empowering taxpayers across Ohio to hold public officials accountable."

"It is with great pleasure that we are launching Fairfield Township on the Ohio Treasurers Open Checkbook today," Nancy Bock, Fairfield Township Fiscal Officer. "With today's technology it is a tool for our residents to have access to our expenditures not only for the current year but for the past years. With the open checkbook they have the availability to pull up reports and graphs in many variations. It was my pleasure to work with the Ohio Treasurers staff on this project. They made this a very easy process."

"Fairfield Township is pleased to participate in the state-wide Open Checkbook program," stated Shannan Hartkemeyer, Fairfield Township Trustee. "This gives our citizens the opportunity to see how the township is allocating resources. It is another step in our efforts to promote open government."

"When people want to find out information about the township, now they can simply go online to access it," added Judy Huffman, Ross Township Fiscal Officer.

On April 7, 2015 Treasurer Mandel sent a letter to 18,062 local government and school officials representing 3,962 local governments throughout the state calling on them to place their checkbook level data on OhioCheckbook.com and extending an invitation to partner with his office at no cost to local governments. These local governments include cities, counties, townships, schools, library districts and other special districts.

A large coalition of statewide and local government organizations have expressed support for OhioCheckbook.com and local OhioCheckbook.com was launched on December 2, 2014, marking the first time in Ohio history when citizens could actually see every expenditure in state government. Since its launch, OhioCheckbook.com has received overwhelming support from newspapers and groups across the state and, as of March 9, 2016 there have been more than 478,000 total searches on the site.

OhioCheckbook.com displays more than $512 billion in spending over the past eight years, including more than 139 million transactions. The website includes cutting-edge features such as:

- “Google-style” contextual search capabilities, to allow users to sort by keyword, department, category or vendor;
- Fully dynamic interactive charts to drill down on state spending;
- Functionality to compare state spending year-over-year or among agencies; and,
- Capability to share charts or checks with social media networks, and direct contact for agency fiscal offices.

In March 2015, the U.S. Public Interest Research Group (U.S. PIRG) released their annual “Following the Money 2015” report and Treasurer Mandel earned Ohio the number one transparency ranking in the country for providing online access to government spending data. Ohio was prominently featured in the report after climbing from 46th to 1st in spending transparency as a result of Treasurer Mandel’s release of OhioCheckbook.com. Due to the launch of OhioCheckbook.com, Ohio received a perfect score of 100 points this year – the highest score in the history of the U.S. PIRG transparency rankings.

The Treasurer’s office is partnering with OpenGov, a leading Silicon Valley government technology company, to provide residents of Ohio the ability to view and search local government expenditures in a user-friendly, digital format. “Ohio is setting the standard for financial transparency on an unprecedented scale. We are excited to partner with the Treasurer’s office to bring world-class technology to communities large and small across the state,” said Zachary Bookman, CEO of OpenGov.
