Momentum Grows for Statewide Government Transparency with Over 750 Local Government and School Districts Partnering with OhioCheckbook.com

Press Release - Ohio Treasurer's Office

COAL GROVE – Ohio Treasurer Josh Mandel announced today the launch of the Village of Coal Grove and Elizabeth Township's online checkbooks on OhioCheckbook.com. In December 2014, Treasurer Mandel launched OhioCheckbook.com, which sets a new national standard for government transparency and for the first time in Ohio history puts all state spending information on the internet. OhioCheckbook.com recently earned Ohio the number one government transparency ranking in the country for a second year in a row.

The Ohio Treasurer's office was joined at today's announcement by Village Fiscal Officer Dylan Markins and Elizabeth Township Fiscal Officer Angie Kisor. Coal Grove is the second village in Lawrence County to post their spending on OhioCheckbook.com, and Elizabeth Township is the first township in Lawrence County to post their spending on OhioCheckbook.com.

The following is a breakdown of today's local government sites:

Coal Grove's online checkbook includes over 9,900 individual transactions that represent more than $4.9 million of total spending over the past three years.

Elizabeth Township's online checkbook includes over 1,300 individual transactions that represent more than $582,000 of total spending over the past three years.

"I believe the people of Lawrence County have a right to know how their tax money is being spent, and I applaud local leaders here for partnering with my office to post the finances on OhioCheckbook.com," said Treasurer Mandel. "By posting local government spending online, we are empowering taxpayers across Ohio to hold public officials accountable."

"The Village of Coal Grove is pleased to partner with Treasurer Mandel and begin posting our finances on OhioCheckbook.com at no cost to our citizens," said Fiscal Officer Dylan Markins. "OhioCheckbook.com is a great opportunity for Ohio's elected officials to showcase transparency and engage their constituents. Thank you to Treasurer Mandel for providing a cutting-edge transparency tool!"

"We at the Township simply believe that this will make it more convenient for taxpayers to access public information," said Elizabeth Township Fiscal Officer Angie Kisor.

"Today's society relies heavily on instant access to information," said State Senator Joe Uecker. "I have heard from several constituents recently with questions regarding school funding and I am proud to see that Coal Grove is participating in OhioCheckbook.com. I believe this program will allow the community to have a better understanding of the district and its expenditures."

STATE TREASURER OF OHIO

On April 7, 2015 Treasurer Mandel sent a letter to 18,062 local government and school officials representing 3,962 local governments throughout the state calling on them to place their checkbook level data on OhioCheckbook.com and extending an invitation to partner with his office at no cost to local governments. These local governments include cities, counties, townships, schools, library districts and other special districts.

A large coalition of statewide and local government organizations have expressed support for OhioCheckbook.com and local government transparency, including:

- Ohio Municipal League
- Ohio Township Association
- Ohio Association of School Business Officials
- Buckeye Association of School Administrators
- County Commissioner Association of Ohio
- County Auditor Association of Ohio
- Ohio Newspaper Association
- Ohio Society of CPAs
- Buckeye Institute
- Common Cause Ohio

OhioCheckbook.com was launched on December 2, 2014, marking the first time in Ohio history when citizens could actually see every expenditure in state government. Since its launch, OhioCheckbook.com has received overwhelming support from newspapers and groups across the state and, as of July 26, 2016 there have been more than 575,000 total searches on the site.

OhioCheckbook.com displays more than $529 billion in spending over the past eight years, including more than 146 million transactions. The website includes cutting-edge features such as:

- “Google-style” contextual search capabilities, to allow users to sort by keyword, department, category or vendor;
- Fully dynamic interactive charts to drill down on state spending;
- Functionality to compare state spending year-over-year or among agencies; and,
- Capability to share charts or checks with social media networks, and direct contact for agency fiscal offices.

In March 2015, the U.S. Public Interest Research Group (U.S. PIRG) released their annual “Following the Money 2015” report and Treasurer Mandel earned Ohio the number one transparency ranking in the country for providing online access to government spending data. Ohio was prominently featured in the report after climbing from 46th to 1st in spending transparency as a result of Treasurer Mandel’s release of OhioCheckbook.com. Due to the launch of OhioCheckbook.com, Ohio received a perfect score of 100 points this year – the highest score in the history of the U.S. PIRG transparency rankings.

In April 2016, U.S. PIRG announced that Treasurer Mandel earned Ohio the number one government transparency ranking in the country for the second consecutive year in a row. Due to the launch of OhioCheckbook.com, Ohio again received the highest perfect score of 100 points this year – marking the second time in two years Ohio received the highest possible score in the history of the U.S. PIRG transparency rankings.

The Treasurer's office is partnering with OpenGov, a leading Silicon Valley government technology company, to provide residents of Ohio the ability to view and search local government expenditures in a user-friendly, digital format. "Ohio is setting the standard for financial transparency on an unprecedented scale. We are excited to partner with the Treasurer's office to bring world-class technology to communities large and small across the state," said Zachary Bookman, CEO of OpenGov.
