STATE TREASURER OF OHIO

Momentum Grows for Statewide Government Transparency with Over 775 Local Government and School Districts Partnering with OhioCheckbook.com

Press Release - Ohio Treasurer's Office

FAYETTEVILLE – Ohio Treasurer Josh Mandel announced today the launch of the Village of Fayetteville, Village of Russellville and Scott Township's online checkbooks on OhioCheckbook.com. In December 2014, Treasurer Mandel launched OhioCheckbook.com, which sets a new national standard for government transparency and for the first time in Ohio history puts all state spending information on the internet. OhioCheckbook.com recently earned Ohio the number one government transparency ranking in the country for a second year in a row.

The Ohio Treasurer's office was joined at today's announcement by Fayetteville Mayor Randy Carson and State Representative Doug Green.

Fayetteville and Russellville are the second and third villages in Brown County to post their spending on OhioCheckbook.com, and Scott Township is the fourth township in Brown County to post their spending on OhioCheckbook.com.

The following is a breakdown of today's local government sites:

Fayetteville's online checkbook includes over 3,900 individual transactions that represent more than $1.1 million of total spending over the past three years.

Russellville's online checkbook includes over 4,000 individual transactions that represent more than $1.3 million of total spending over the past three years.

Scott Township's online checkbook includes over 900 individual transactions that represent more than $630,000 of total spending over the past three years.

"I believe the people of Brown County have a right to know how their tax money is being spent, and I applaud local leaders here for partnering with my office to post the finances on OhioCheckbook.com," said Treasurer Mandel. "By posting local government spending online, we are empowering taxpayers across Ohio to hold public officials accountable."

"The Village of Fayetteville is pleased to partner with Treasurer Mandel and begin posting our finances on OhioCheckbook.com at no cost to our citizens," said Mayor Randy Carson. "OhioCheckbook.com is a great resource for the Village of Fayetteville and we are proud to partner with the Ohio Treasurer's office. Transparency has become increasingly important to citizens and we are happy to be on the forefront by providing access through OhioCheckbook.com."

"Most municipalities suffer from a dearth of time and money," said Russellville Fiscal Officer Amy Bradley. "OhioCheckbook.com will be a powerful tool in communicating important information with no financial impact to our budget."

"I have really enjoyed working with the Treasurer's Office staff and the process was very easy," said Scott Township Fiscal Officer Joni Wallace. "Scott Township is proud to provide full transparency to our taxpayers and we are happy to partner with Treasurer Josh Mandel."

"I applaud Fayetteville, Russellville, Scott Township and the Ohio Treasurer's Office in their efforts to provide transparency amongst the government and the people of Ohio," said State Representative Doug Green. "OhioCheckbook.com will ensure taxpayer dollars are being wisely spent. I believe Treasurer Mandel's initiative will be nothing but beneficial to the Village of Fayetteville, the Village of Russellville, Scott Township, the district, and the state as a whole."

"Technology has made it so that society relies heavily on instant access to information," said Senator Joe Uecker. "I am proud to see Fayetteville, Russellville and Scott Township participating in OhioCheckbook.com and am glad to know that the people of Brown County will have the access and ability to easily find out how their tax dollars are being spent."

On April 7, 2015 Treasurer Mandel sent a letter to 18,062 local government and school officials representing 3,962 local governments throughout the state calling on them to place their checkbook level data on OhioCheckbook.com and extending an invitation to partner with his office at no cost to local governments. These local governments include cities, counties, townships, schools, library districts and other special districts.

A large coalition of statewide and local government organizations have expressed support for OhioCheckbook.com and local government transparency, including:

- Ohio Municipal League
- Ohio Township Association
- Ohio Association of School Business Officials
- Buckeye Association of School Administrators
- County Commissioner Association of Ohio
- County Auditor Association of Ohio
- Ohio Newspaper Association
- Ohio Society of CPAs
- Buckeye Institute
- Common Cause Ohio

OhioCheckbook.com was launched on December 2, 2014, marking the first time in Ohio history when citizens could actually see every expenditure in state government. Since its launch, OhioCheckbook.com has received overwhelming support from newspapers and groups across the state and, as of August 23, 2016 there have been more than 606,000 total searches on the site.

OhioCheckbook.com displays more than $534 billion in spending over the past eight years, including more than 147 million transactions. The website includes cutting-edge features such as:

In March 2015, the U.S. Public Interest Research Group (U.S. PIRG) released their annual “Following the Money 2015” report and Treasurer Mandel earned Ohio the number one transparency ranking in the country for providing online access to government spending data. Ohio was prominently featured in the report after climbing from 46th to 1st in spending transparency as a result of Treasurer Mandel’s release of OhioCheckbook.com. Due to the launch of OhioCheckbook.com, Ohio received a perfect score of 100 points this year – the highest score in the history of the U.S. PIRG transparency rankings.

In April 2016, U.S. PIRG announced that Treasurer Mandel earned Ohio the number one government transparency ranking in the country for the second consecutive year in a row. Due to the launch of OhioCheckbook.com, Ohio again received the highest perfect score of 100 points this year – marking the second time in two years Ohio received the highest possible score in the history of the U.S. PIRG transparency rankings.

The Treasurer’s office is partnering with OpenGov, a leading Silicon Valley government technology company, to provide residents of Ohio the ability to view and search local government expenditures in a user-friendly, digital format. “Ohio is setting the standard for financial transparency on an unprecedented scale. We are excited to partner with the Treasurer’s office to bring world-class technology to communities large and small across the state,” said Zachary Bookman, CEO of OpenGov.
